

Bellomy Research, Inc. Workforce Privacy Notice

Effective Date: February 28, 2024

Last Reviewed On: December 1, 2025

This Workforce Privacy Notice (this “Notice”) describes how Bellomy Research, Inc. (“Bellomy,” “we,” “us,” or “our”) collects, uses, discloses, and protects the personal information of our California workforce, including our employees, independent contractors, job applicants, and job candidates who reside in California (our “Workforce”).

We are committed to protecting the privacy of our Workforce. Accordingly, we will use any Workforce personal information in accordance with this Notice. However, this Notice does not protect information you post to public areas or third-party websites, except as may be set forth herein. This Notice imposes no duties on us not imposed by state, federal, or other applicable law.

This Notice is designed to meet obligations under the California Consumer Privacy Act, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act (together, the “CPRA”). Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Notice shall have the meanings given to them under the CPRA.

We reserve the right to modify or amend this Notice at any time to reflect changes in our personal information practices or applicable law. Should it be necessary to do so, we will notify you and/or request your express consent of material changes to this Notice by posting such changes to www.bellomy.com (our “Site”).

Non-Applicability: This Notice does not apply to our consumer facing website(s) or to those of our Workforce acting in their capacity as a consumer, which are addressed in our Bellomy Research, Inc. Privacy Notice.

This is a pdf document and can be printed.

1. NOTICE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION PRACTICES

Personal Information Sources

We may collect information that identifies, relates to, describes, references, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with individuals in the Workforce (“Personal Information”). Personal Information does not include:

- Publicly available information from government records;
- Deidentified or aggregated consumer information;
- Health or medical information covered by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act and the California Confidentiality of Medical Information Act; or
- Personal information covered by various privacy laws, including the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act or the California Financial Information Privacy Act, and the Driver’s Privacy Protection Act of 1994.

We may collect Personal Information directly from you, such as: (i) when you apply for a position or become employed or engaged by us (e.g., identification/identity data, contact details, educational, and employment data); (ii) indirectly from you, such as by observing your actions on our network or from information your computer or mobile device transmits when interacting with our network; (iii) from others through interactions in the course of employment or engagement; (iv) from third parties (e.g., references); or (v) from public sources of data. For more information on the types of Personal Information we collect, see “Personal Information Collection and Disclosure by Category” below.

Purposes for Personal Information Collection and Use

Generally, we use Personal Information for Business Purposes (as defined within the CPRA) and as otherwise related to the operation of our business. For example, we may use Personal Information for the following purposes:

- Background checks;
- Drug screening;
- Payroll, reimbursement, and timekeeping;
- Processing work-related claims (e.g., worker’s compensation and insurance);
- Booking employee travel;
- Performance reviews;
- Benefits administration;
- Facilitating diversity and inclusion programs;
- Analyzing employee retention and attrition;
- Education, training, and development requirements;
- Occupational health and safety;
- Security (e.g., network and physical security); and
- As required by law.

We may also use Personal Information for Additional Business Purposes (as defined within the CPRA) in a context that is not selling or sharing under the CPRA, such as:

- Disclosing it to our service providers or contractors that perform services for us (“Vendors”);
- Disclosing it to you or to other parties at your direction, through your action, or as otherwise requested or permitted by you to enable us to satisfy our obligations to you pursuant to your employment or engagement by Bellomy (e.g., payroll processors, benefits providers, some software platform operators, wellness program providers, insurance providers, etc.);
- For the additional purposes explained at the time of collection (such as in any additional applicable privacy notice);
- As required or permitted by applicable law;
- To the government or private parties to comply with law or legal process, protect or enforce legal rights or obligations or prevent harm;
- To investigate, prevent, or take action if we think someone might be using information for illegal activities, fraud, or in ways that may threaten someone’s safety or violate our policies or legal obligations; and
- To assignees as part of an acquisition, merger, asset sale, or other transaction where another party assumes control over all or part of our business.

Subject to restrictions and obligations under the CPRA, our Vendors may also use your Personal Information for Business Purposes and Additional Business Purposes, and may engage their own vendors to enable them to perform services for us. For more information on the types of Vendors to whom we disclose your Personal Information, see “Personal Information Collection and Disclosure by Category” below.
